About Sloane Square Medical

We are a London-based private GP practice founded in 2008 by Dr Victoria Owen.

•

Sloane Square Medical specialises in all aspects of family medicine, with a keen interest in preventative care and menopause. We offer a wide variety of preventative care solutions through health screenings including annual medical reviews.

•

We are dedicated to providing a world-class GP service through clinical face-to-face services in London and remote online consultations for our patients, no matter where they are in the world

•

Sloane Square Medical is CQC and UKAS accredited. The doctors are members of the Royal College of General Practitioners and members of both the British Medical Association and the British Menopause Society.

Our Brand Pillars

These pillars are the foundation of Sloane Square Medical.

We continually strive to ensure these building blocks remain at the heart of everything we do and every patient we serve.

Our Founder

Dr Victoria Owen

Founder & Medical Director | MBChB DRCOG MRCGP BMSc

Dr Victoria Owen graduated from Dundee University in 1994 and completed postgraduate training in medicine, surgery, paediatrics, gynaecology and psychiatry. She has a special interest in the interface between physical and psychological illness. After several years working as a GP for the NHS in Yorkshire, she moved to London in 2000. Before founding her own practice in 2008, her experience included working as a Forensic Medical Examiner for the Metropolitan Police. She was also the lead doctor of a large practice working closely with a wide range of medical consultants. Dr Victoria Owen is a member of the Royal College of General Practitioners (RCGP), the British Menopause Society (BMS), the British Medical Association (BMA), the Independent Doctors Federation (IDF) and the Chelsea Clinical Society

Why Corporate Care is important

Corporate Care is an important tool in maintaining employee health and wellbeing. At Sloane Square Medical we recognise the importance good employee health has on productivity and profitability. It is no coincidence that good health is good for business.

Preventative care plays an important role in maintaining the health of your team. Diagnosing the early signs of disease provides a better chance for effective treatment and a stronger, healthier workforce. Looking after employee health not only prevents physical illness but has a positive impact on mental well being too.

At Sloane Square Medical we offer a variety of corporate screening options to cover all your businesses needs.

Our Corporate Care Promise

Sloane Square Medical is an evidence-based practice recommending proven screening tests. Our GP's are highly experienced with an excellent referral network, offering fast access to top consultants and private hospitals across London should this be required.

Sloane Square Medical acts as your company doctor, helping to provide day-to-day care for employees when necessary.

Our Corporate Care Packages

We offer 5 main packages which can be tailored to your individual business needs.

- On-site Well-being Package
- Corporate Health Screening
- Mental Well-being Package
- Menopause Management Package
- Corporate GP Services

We can also offer bespoke packages for businesses looking to provide a combination of our corporate care services to their employees.

Our On-Site Wellbeing Package

Our on-site wellbeing package is an incredibly useful service for both employees and the business. The aim of this service is to provide a convenient way to access first-class primary healthcare.

Enabling access to our on-site wellbeing program reduces the time spent by employees accessing primary health care outside of the business, increasing productivity and morale.

We offer a range of services within our on-site wellbeing package and can tailor these services to your business needs. Whether you're looking to offer health screening, menopause management, physiotherapy, dietary consultations or mental health services, we can find a balance of services to suit you and your team.

Our Corporate Health Screening Packages

Health screenings are a way of assessing if an individual has an increased risk of becoming unwell in the future. Even if a person has no symptoms or immediate concerns with their health, there are intervals in a person's life, especially as they get older, where annual health screenings can prove helpful in maintaining good health.

We offer three annual health screening options:

- Well-woman Health Screening
- Well-man Health Screening
- 50+ Health Screening

Our Corporate Health Screening Packages

Well-Woman Screening

Our well-woman health screening is a comprehensive and in-depth consultation and examination covering a wide range of screening tests. We recommend this screening for those who are looking for a full health overview. This includes screening for menopause and menopause management.

Well-Man Screening

Our well-man health screening is a comprehensive and in-depth consultation and examination covering a wide range of screening tests. We recommend this screening for those who are looking for a full health overview.

50+ Wellness Screening

Our 50+ wellness screenings are specifically tailored to the needs of those who are over 50 years old. Within this screening, we test for diseases where risks increase with age as well as provide testing to assess your overall wellbeing.

Our Mental Wellbeing Package

Looking after your team's mental wellbeing within the workplace plays an important role in maintaining productivity and morale.

Anxiety and depression are natural feelings that can occur at any time in a person's life. It is important to recognise when these symptoms become unmanageable and additional support is required.

Stress management strategies can be important tools in preserving mental health and coping with high pressured situations and roles.

Our Mental Wellbeing package provides access to our Psychotherapists in a way that suits you and your team.

Our Menopause Management Package

Perimenopause and menopause can have an enormous effect on a woman's performance at work. Slowly and over time, a colleague who has been known to be high-performing can suffer symptoms of memory loss, anxiety, loss of confidence and tiredness as well as other debilitating symptoms, which can all be linked to the onset of perimenopause.

Open support for perimenopause and menopause at work is essential to maintain a motivated and productive workforce.

At Sloane Square Medical we approach menopause as part of the patient's overall health and well being to ensure the best possible care and treatment.

Through our Sloane Menopause Clinic, corporate patients can access menopause management services including HRT prescriptions, that are tailored to their individual needs.

Our Menopause Management Package

We offer three options:
